

WILSON SPEAKS TO METHODISTS

President Touches on Great European Conflict.

MUST WAIT FOR THE TRUTH

Chief Executive Declares His Belief That No Man Is Wise Enough to Pronounce Judgment Upon the Titanic Struggle in the Old World at the Present Time.

Washington, April 9.—In a speech before the Maryland annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church, in session here, President Wilson said it is his belief that no man is wise enough to pronounce judgment on the European war at this time.

"But," he added, "we can all hold our spirits in readiness to accept the truth when it is revealed to us in the outcome of this titanic struggle."

"These are days of great perplexity," he said, "when a cloud of trouble hangs over the greater part of the world. It seems as if great blind material forces, long held in leash, have been released."

"Underneath it you can see the strong impulses of great ideals. It would be impossible for men to go through what men are going through on the battlefields of Europe if it were not that they thought they saw the light where the morning should come up and believed that they are standing each on his side of the contest for some eternal principle of right."

World Sits in Judgment.

"Then, all about us, there sits the silent, waiting tribunal which is going to utter ultimate judgment upon this struggle, the great tribunal of the opinion of the world; I pray that it may be that I do truly see great spiritual forces lying waiting for the outcome of this thing to assert themselves and asserting themselves even now, to enlighten our judgment and steady our spirits."

"I said to a body similar to this only a few nights ago that I welcomed the atmosphere which these solemn assessments of the human spirit bring to Washington. For this is the place of assessment."

"In one sense Washington is not even a part of the United States. It is where every one else comes and sooner or later speaks his mind about the United States and about many outlying parts of the world. Mr. Bryan and I are constantly auditors to what I dare say is a large part of the opinion of the world; to judge by the time it takes to express it I think it a very large part, and to judge by the variety and contrariety of it I dare say it is a cross section of what men are thinking about."

Secretary of State Bryan followed the president with an address of welcome to the visiting clergy.

SCHOONER LOST IN GALE

Mate and Four Seamen Are Carried Overboard.

New York, April 9.—The loss of the schooner Edna M. Smith, with its mate and four of its crew, was reported when the Norwegian steamer Petra arrived from Guantanamo, Cuba. The Para had on board Captain Farrell and eight survivors of the crew of the Smith, rescued from an open boat by the Petra. They had had nothing to eat for four days.

Captain Farrell said that he left Gulfport, Miss., March 16 with a cargo of lumber for Portishead, Eng. On April 2 he encountered a severe hurricane and his vessel soon became unmanageable.

During the storm the mate and four men were lost overboard. After all hope of saving the vessel had been abandoned Captain Farrell and his eight men took to the lifeboat. Soon afterwards the vessel turned turtle.

ANSWERS HARDIE'S CHARGE

Drinking Accusation Was Against Minority of Workmen.

London, April 9.—David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer replied to a charge made by James Kier Hardie at the meeting of the Independent Labor party at Norwich that the chancellor had maligned and insulted workmen and that as a result word had gone around the world that "the working classes are a set of drunken wasters."

The chancellor declares that he particularly said that it was a minority of the men against whom the charge of excessive drinking was made.

HOLLAND IS READY TO REPEL INVASION

But Dutch Oppose Any Intervention in War.

London, April 9.—There were persistent rumors in London that Germany either had declared war on Holland or that her troops had occupied that strip of Dutch territory which extends from the Belgian frontier on the coast to the River Scheldt. The reports lack confirmation and are not credited by those who should know if either action had been taken.

It is possible that the reports arose from the news received in the last few days from Dutch sources that the Germans were strengthening their positions around the Dutch frontier and that much uneasiness prevailed at The Hague and other Dutch cities as a result of the seizure or sinking of Dutch steamers by German submarines.

The Dutch are strongly opposed to intervention in the war, but their army is ready to repel any invasion of Dutch territory, complete preparations with that object having been made long ago.

Landing Troops in Turkey.

London, April 9.—The Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent says he learns from Dedeagach that several transports of the allies, escorted by warships, were distinctly visible Wednesday morning in splendid weather off Enos and that it was supposed troops were being disembarked along the Turkish coast.

Chicago Mayor Asserts He Has Earned a Rest.

MAYOR HAS FEW REGRETS

Chicago Executive Discusses the Democratic Defeat.

Chicago, April 9.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison told why, in his opinion, the Democratic candidates were sniped under in Tuesday's election.

"One of the causes of our downfall Tuesday was revulsion against the injection of the religious issue," he said. "You can get away with this religious issue once, but not a second time."

"Thousands of good Catholics in Chicago rebelled against this style of campaign and voted against the Democratic ticket. This issue was used against me in the windup of the primary campaign, in which I was a candidate for mayor. Where the mistake was made was in bringing it out again in the election campaign a few weeks later."

"A great many people revolted, too, against the continued playing up of Mr. Sweitzer as a German."

"As for myself," the mayor continued, "I leave office with few regrets. I have served five terms and have earned a rest."

STRIKE IS CAUSED BY UNION RIVALRY

Tieup Is Result of War Between Two Organizations.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 9.—Warfare between two labor organizations has resulted in a strike of street and electric railway employees in Central New York that already has completely tied up interurban traffic between this city and Auburn and the street car service in Auburn, seriously hampered interurban service in Western New York and threatened to involve transportation service in the cities of Syracuse, Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

The strike was inaugurated by the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees and is directed against the Empire United Railways company to force recognition of the association rather than the Brotherhood of Electric Trainmen.

The latter organization is under contract with certain of the Empire railways and the company's refusal to abrogate the agreement and recognize the Amalgamated association as the representative union organization of their employees prompted the strike order.

WILL PAY FOR SINKING VESSEL

Germany Agrees to Settle With American Owners.

UPHOLDS CRUISER'S ACTION

Kaiser's Government Bases Its Liability to Pay Indemnity Solely Upon Old Prussian-American Treaties. Note Says Case of Necessity Goes Into Prize Court.

Washington, April 9.—Germany's intention to compensate the owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk on the high seas with her cargo of wheat by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was formally communicated to the United States government.

Ambassador Gerard cabled a note handed him by the Berlin foreign office in reply to the recent American communication submitting a claim for an indemnity of $288,059.54 on behalf of the Frye's owners.

The foreign office upholds without qualification the legality under international law of the raider's action in sinking the Frye and bases the liability of the German government to pay indemnity solely upon the old Prussian-American treaties of 1799 and 1828, which provide that contraband belonging to the subjects or citizens of either party cannot be confiscated by the other and may be detained or used only in consideration of payment of the full value.

Case Goes to Prize Court.

In view of this stipulation, the note says, of course the American owners must be compensated for their loss. It is pointed out, however, that the case of necessity must go into a prize court in order that questions of ownership, cargo, destination, etc., may be formally established.

The German position is that the Frye's cargo of wheat was contraband because it was consigned "for orders" to Queenstown, which is declared to be a fortified port of Great Britain. No notice is taken of the fact that, since the wheat was sold en route to British citizens, the United States filed a claim for the vessel owners only, this question being left for development in the prize court.

Officials here are somewhat surprised at the nature of the German note because of the bearing it may have upon negotiations now in progress between Washington and London over the virtual blockade of Germany and Austria declared by the allies. The United States has insisted that upon the belligerent seizing a cargo consigned "to order" rested the burden of proof that the goods were destined for armed forces of an enemy.

The German note was dated April 4, one day after Mr. Gerard presented the request for indemnity.

The Roumanian minister to Turkey is quoted by the correspondent as having said that Germany refused to deliver certain gun parts ordered some time ago by Roumania unless Roumania consented to allow Turkish shipments passage through Roumania.

Great Falls, Mont., April 9.—Jack Looch, Barney Hall and Jack Callahan were crushed to death under a ditching machine on a flat car when an eastbound Great Northern freight collided with a work train at Rainbow station, six miles east of Great Falls.

According to trainmen the extra had cleared for the freight on a siding. When the through train passed it went onto the main line and, for some untold reason, the freight reversed around a curve and backed down on the work train.

DOUBLE SERVICE
AUTOMOBILE TIRES
Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service
ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric and one inch surface tread rubber makes these tires
absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices as an Introductory Offer:

| Tires | Extra Heavy |
|----------|-------------|
| 28x3 | $ 7.25 |

Washington, April 9.—Claims of a

at Celaya, 150 miles north of Mexico City, reports that martial law had been established in Tampico and that fighting continued at Ebano, where the contending forces were estimated at 7,000 men, were received in dispatches to the state department.

board consisting of the constitutional

FAVOR HOLDING TERRITORY

Germans Anxious to Annex Strip of Belgium.

London, April 9.—A correspondent of the Times who has been traveling in Germany says that among the German people, especially those of military rank and caste, the opinion is strong that nothing will prevent Antwerp and the strip of Belgian coast stretching in a line to the German frontier south of Dutch Limburg from belonging henceforth to Germany.

They agree, the correspondent says, in some cases to let the rest go, as they admit it would be too long and difficult a task for the Germans to take the whole of Belgium.

ALBANIANS READY TO ATTACK

German and Turkish officers, are col-for an attack on Durazzo and subsewith the recent attack on the Serbians, is believed to form part of a concert-

One thousand delegates are in attendance at the fifty-seventh annual state convention of the Minnesota Sunday School Association. Brainerd is extending a glad welcome to the Sunday school hosts.

In the religious education division, convention school of methods, Marion Lawrence, of Chicago, general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, spoke on the city training school. It is the purpose of the Minnesota Sunday School Association to start city training schools in five cities of Minnesota next October. These schools will be permanently established in each city with a full complement of volunteer workers from colleges and universities. They will aim to train a few leaders from each Sunday school of the city who will in turn promise to go back to the local school and conduct training classes for the future leaders of their individual churches and schools. The cities to have these schools are Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Mankato and Winona.

Five churches of the city yesterday held simultaneously convention schools of method, all well attended. In the First Congregational church the elementary division was considered.

At the Bethlehem Lutheran church the secondary division with the early teen age was considered. In the Methodist church the "O. A. B. C. Movement," in the Episcopal church, religious education. In the First Presbyterian, the administrative division.

Austin will get the convention in 1916. The city sent a large delegation and distributed 1,000 red badges printed by the Austin Commercial club. The city council of Austin also sent a delegate, L. P. Fisher, paying his expenses. Plans are already being perfected at Austin for the entertainment of the delegates.

The election of officers will be held on Friday afternoon and this includes five members of the board of directors who will serve three years. Indications point to the re-election of J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis, as president.

On Thursday evening a general session was held in the opera house and so great was the crowd that the overflowed the Bethlehem Lutheran church, where the people were addressed by Marion Lawrence.

At the opera house there was a sacred concert by a chorus of 75 led by J. Lincoln Hall and Dr. Adam

PROF. WALLACE N. STEARNS, Fargo, N. D.

Director Religious Education of Fargo College

Prof. Stearns has been a leader in Sunday school work of his own state for many years and is especially qualified to speak along the lines of the Bible credits as related to the public schools of his own state.

Geibel. "Their work was a revelation and the congregational singing was the best ever heard in Brainerd. Waving his hand at the gallery, then the main floor, the boxes and the chorus on the stage, each section sang and then with a sweep the whole audience joined in a grand burst of song.

"That's the best singing I ever heard at a convention," said Mr. Hall.

General Secretary A. M. Locker spoke of the program and called attention to the criticism sometimes indulged in. "Try and build one and see the difficulties encountered," said Mr. Locker.

President J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis, presided. He called attention to the old days when the organization was formed 57 years ago. Now the meetings have become so large that on the very first night of a convention one building is not large enough to hold them all. President Martin called attention to the Brainerd Dispatch and the work of convention publicity being carried on.

Dr. W. A. Brown spoke on "New Thoughts on an Old Book, A Great Achievement." He said the greatest single achievement of the Christian centuries was the Bible itself. If it had not been for the efforts of foreign missionaries and their enterprise, we would have had no Bible.

Missionaries produced the Bible and missions have risen from the Bible.

Miss Margaret Slattery, of Boston, Mass., spoke on "The Teacher of the Hour." The age demanded a teacher to solve present problems, one who was alive to the needs of the times.

In fine word painting she described a procession on the streets of her native city, headed by platoons of police, by gold braid and flashing accoutrements, the blare of music. All kept firm step at the head of the gallant parade. Then came fewer bands, the drum corps and at last the people, marching, but some were sadly out of step and the onlooker, in some cases, said to his neighbor, "Let's go home, the parade is over."

And there lay the difficulty of many of the problems of civic and religious life. The impetus and thought was needed, the patient care, to make the rear end of the procession march in tune.

And some, said Miss Slattery, were entirely incapacitated from marching and keeping step with American progress. The whole procession should be judged by the marching of the company in the rear and not until that was thoroughly improved had the right note been struck.

She saw with her mind's eye children doomed by alcohol. There were the sick, the imbeciles, and others, soome doomed to forever walk in the rear or lag there never in step.

There were two kinds of Sunday school teachers, those alive and those dead. The age demanded a teacher to solve present problems, one who was alive to the needs of the times.

She deprecated the idea of having a school room laden with pictures of dead celebrities. Place in view, she said, pictures of some of the living, famous now.

"You men have made me call the teacher 'she'," said Miss Slattery. "Men have not been in a religious movement for a long time."

FRIDAY MORNING REVIEW

Association of Officers has a Conference and Outlines a Policy

The association of officers had a conference this Friday morning, meeting in the First Methodist church. The room was filled. County and district officers from the entire state were present.

Two plans of definite policy were adopted. First, it was decided to hold an annual school of methods for county presidents and secretaries at St. Paul in January each year for two days. The county association is to pay the railway fare and the workers at St. Paul will entertain the officers.

Second, it was decided that the state association should send a worker during August to every county in the state, holding a half day conference with county officers and district president. This policy will be recommended to the board of directors at its meeting today.

Sentiment is strongly in favor of re-electing President J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson, of Brainerd, president of the Crow Wing county Sunday School Association, gave a brief address this morning and explained his system of charts reviewing in detail the work of state and county associations as related to local schools in his county. A. M. Locker, general secretary, presided and Miss Jessie Kempton, of Aitkin, was secretary.

The elementary division is represented by teachers of children and "teen" age from all over Minnesota. The capacity of the First Congregational church is being taxed for room to hold the workers. Dr. W. A. Brown, of Chicago, is giving masterful addresses on the ways and means of teaching missions in Sunday schools of Minnesota. Miss Mabel Bailey, superintendent of the elementary division in Wisconsin, is enthusing the workers of Minnesota along elementary lines.

One thousand delegates are in attendance at the fifty-seventh annual state convention of the Minnesota Sunday School Association. Brainerd is extending a glad welcome to the Sunday school hosts.

In the religious education division, convention school of methods, Marion Lawrence, of Chicago, general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, spoke on the city training school. It is the purpose of the Minnesota Sunday School Association to start city training schools in five cities of Minnesota next October. These schools will be permanently established in each city with a full complement of volunteer workers from colleges and universities. They will aim to train a few leaders from each Sunday school of the city who will in turn promise to go back to the local school and conduct training classes for the future leaders of their individual churches and schools. The cities to have these schools are Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Mankato and Winona.

Five churches of the city yesterday held simultaneously convention schools of method, all well attended. In the First Congregational church the elementary division was considered.

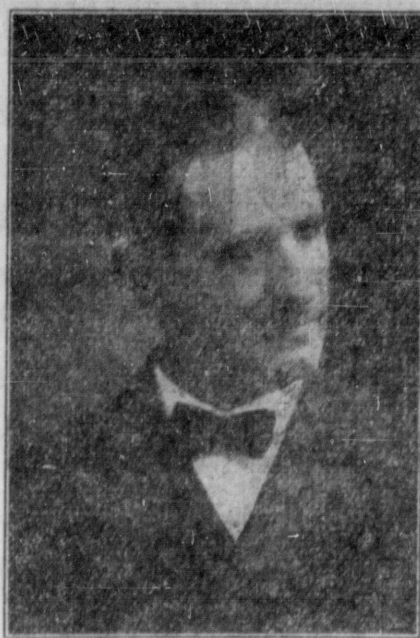

At the Bethlehem Lutheran church the secondary division with the early teen age was considered. In the Methodist church the "O. A. B. C. Movement." In the Episcopal church, religious education. In the First Presbyterian, the administrative division.

Austin will get the convention in 1916. The city sent a large delegation and distributed 1,000 red badges printed by the Austin Commercial club. The city council of Austin also sent a delegate, L. P. Fisher, paying his expenses. Plans are already being perfected at Austin for the entertainment of the delegates.

The election of officers will be held on Friday afternoon and this includes five members of the board of directors who will serve three years. Indications point to the re-election of J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis, as president.

On Thursday evening a general session was held in the opera house and so great was the crowd that the overflow filled the Bethlehem Lutheran church, where the people were addressed by Marion Lawrence.

At the opera house there was a sacred concert by a chorus of 75 led by J. Lincoln Hall and Dr. Adam

PROF. WALLACE N. STEARNS.

Fargo, N. D.

Director Religious Education of Fargo College

Prof. Stearns has been a leader in Sunday school work of his own state for many years and is especially qualified to speak along the lines of the Bible credits as related to the public schools of his own state.

Geibel. "Their work was a revelation and the congregational singing was the best ever heard in Brainerd. Waving his hand at the gallery, then the main floor, the boxes and the chorus on the stage, each section sang and then with a sweep the whole audience joined in a grand burst of song.

"That's the best singing I ever heard at a convention," said Mr. Hall.

General Secretary A. M. Locker spoke of the program and called attention to the criticism sometimes indulged in. "Try and build one and see the difficulties encountered," said Mr. Locker.

President J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis, presided. He called attention to the old days when the organization was formed 57 years ago. Now the meetings have become so large that on the very first night of a convention one building is not large enough to hold them all. President Martin called attention to the Brainerd Dispatch and the work of convention publicity being carried on.

Dr. W. A. Brown spoke on "New Thoughts on an Old Book, A Great Achievement." He said the greatest single achievement of the Christian centuries was the Bible itself. If it had not been for the efforts of foreign missionaries and their enterprise, we would have had no Bible. Missionaries produced the Bible and missions have risen from the Bible.

Miss Margaret Slattery, of Boston, Mass., spoke on "The Teacher of the Hour." The age demanded a teacher to solve present problems, one who was alive to the needs of the times.

In fine word painting she described a procession on the streets of her native city, headed by platoons of police, by gold braid and flashing accoutrements, the blare of music. All kept firm step at the head of the gallant parade. Then came fewer bands, the drum corps and at last the people, marching, but some were sadly out of step and the onlooker, in some cases, said to his neighbor, "Let's go home, the parade is over."

And there lay the difficulty of many of the problems of civic and religious life. The impetus and thought was needed, the patient care, to make the rear end of the procession march in tune.

And some, said Miss Slattery, were entirely incapacitated from marching and keeping step with American progress. The whole procession should be judged by the marching of the company in the rear and not until that was thoroughly improved had the right note been struck.

She saw with her mind's eye children doomed by alcohol. There were the sick, the imbeciles, and others, some doomed to forever walk in the rear or lag there never in step.

There were two kinds of Sunday school teachers, those alive and those dead. The age demanded a teacher to solve present problems, one who was alive to the needs of the times.

She deprecated the idea of having a school room laden with pictures of dead celebrities. Place in view, she said, pictures of some of the living, famous now.

"You men have made me call the teacher 'she,'" said Miss Slattery. "Men have not been in a religious movement for a long time."

FRIDAY MORNING REVIEW

Association of Officers has a Conference and Outlines a Policy

The association of officers had a conference this Friday morning, meeting in the First Methodist church. The room was filled. County and district officers from the entire state were present.

Two plans of definite policy were adopted. First, it was decided to hold an annual school of methods for county presidents and secretaries at St. Paul in January each year for two days. The county association is to pay the railway fare and the workers at St. Paul will entertain the officers.

Second, it was decided that the state association should send a worker during August to every county in the state, holding a half day conference with county officers and district president. This policy will be recommended to the board of directors at its meeting today.

Sentiment is strongly in favor of re-electing President J. H. Martin, of Minneapolis.

Dr. Joseph Nicholson, of Brainerd, president of the Crow Wing county Sunday School Association, gave a brief address this morning and explained his system of charts reviewing in detail the work of state and county associations as related to local schools in his county. A. M. Locker, general secretary, presided and Miss Jessie Kempton, of Aitkin, was secretary.

The elementary division is represented by teachers of children and "teen" age from all over Minnesota. The capacity of the First Congregational church is being taxed for room to hold the workers. Dr. W. A. Brown, of Chicago, is giving masterful addresses on the ways and means of teaching missions in Sunday schools of Minnesota. Miss Mabel Bailey, superintendent of the elementary division in Wisconsin, is enthusing the workers of Minnesota along elementary lines.

The "teen" age division is being taxed for seating room in the largest church in the city. Standing room is at a premium to hear Margaret Slattery, teen age expert of the United States. F. H. Brigham, of Neenah, Wisconsin, is the boy expert of the convention.

CHAPTER XXX.

"I—I thought you loved me!"

RUTH had listened intently, and now she seemed to draw herself a little out of the conversation. Her change of attitude did not go unobserved, and both Everett and Dor were puzzled.

Everett saw that there was another mystery of which he knew nothing and instantly in the most businesslike manner turned to Ruth and said:

"Now, all this subject to your approval, Miss Ruth. You know you are practically of age."

She looked at Everett steadily and said in a low tone, "I think Sir Donald Faversham should be consulted."

"But he has nothing,"—John began. "He has everything to do with this plan," Ruth said steadily.

"I know he's done a lot," Dor stammered, feeling the ground give under his feet, "but in this matter—"

"I think Miss Ruth is perfectly right," Everett said quickly, trying not to let the pity he felt for John show in his eyes. "Let us call him, by all means."

Sir Donald had kept himself most discreetly in the background for many weeks. Only the constant oversight for her comfort showed Ruth that she was never out of his mind.

She could not even think of him without a throb of gratitude.

And now when all must be made plain and she must live up to her own promise she steeled herself for the ordeal.

Sir Donald listened to Everett's plan and approved it thoroughly.

"And now that we have decided what to do," he concluded, "I think we should immediately go to the mine and make the—ah—the deal. I by no means like this affair, and the sooner it is over with the better."

"Good," said Everett, much relieved. "And you and I, Sir Donald, being the third parties, had better handle this deal. Do you agree to that, John?"

"I'd like to just get my hands on that fellow once more," was the hoarse response. "There would be no further need of this 'deal' as you call it."

"Yes and the fat would be in the fire," Everett replied.

Dor finally agreed to maintain a strict neutrality and Ruth gratefully accepted the offer to conduct her affairs as Sir Donald and Everett should judge best.

That night they left for Silent Valley.

Tom Kane received them joyfully and informed Ruth that Mrs. Darnell had especially seen to it that the bungalow was ready for her.

He was full of other news, but both Sir Donald and Everett put him off and set about their business.

It was a strange conference that met that night in the office. On one side were Harry Wilkerson and Mrs. Darnell, on the other Everett and Faversham, the latter looking so intensely bored that shrewd Mrs. Darnell instantly made up her mind that she and Wilkerson would have to accept bitter terms.

Sir Donald was only too evidently waiting for formalities to be over before he said the few words necessary for him to say as high's representative.

Wilkerson himself felt, too, that he was at last playing a game where all the cards were to be face up on the board.

When Everett had coldly and definitely set the situation before them Wilkerson sat motionless and in silence for a moment.

His shifty eyes did not meet the gaze of the three who looked to him for his yes or no. When he spoke it was with a dash of his old effrontery.

"I understand the proposal," he said, working his lean, brown fingers back and forth over a blue print on the desk. "We quit, give you the plans, and you give me—"

He suddenly leaned away and darted a bright glance into Everett's eyes—"You give us what?"

Everett was prepared for the question and answered it promptly. "We give you $50,000 cash and won't prosecute you."

Wilkerson shook his head. "You understand that half this mine was mine by rights when Tom Gallon took it for himself by shooting me and leaving me to die on the desert. Fifty thousand? Pah!"

"And immunity from prosecution," stated Sir Donald impressively.

Wilkerson swung on him, thrusting his lean, furious face close to the Englishman's calm, unperceptive countenance.

"What have you to do with this?" he snarled.

Faversham did not shift his position nor change his tone. "I have Miss Gallon's promise to marry me."

There was a sudden silence, broken only when Wilkerson's dry throat uttered a triumphant creak.
